Examination into the Wawasset Disaster.

When Specie Payments are to be Resumed.

Gathering Labor Statistics in Europe.

Report on the Condition of the Cotton Crop.

WASHINGTON, August 15, 1873.

Examination into the Wawasset Disaster.

The examination into the Wawasset disaster was commenced to-day at the Treasury Department before George W. Taylor, Acting Superintending Inspector General of Steamboats, William Rose, Inspector of Hulls at Savannah, Ga., and John E. Edgar, Inspector of Boilers at Norfolk. The main matters of the inquiry were: first, the equipment of the steamer; second, the origin of the fire; third, the conduct of the licensed officers both prior and subsequent to the alarm being given.

The first witnesses examined were James D. Mowery, Inspector of Hulls, and William O. Saville, Inspector of Boilers at Baltimore, who made the last inspection, from whose testimony it appears that the steamer was thoroughly inspected in March last, and everything which the law requires was found there without a single exception.

Captain Wood, of the Wawasset, at the time of the alarm of fire, said he called to the passengers to keep cool, as he did not see any reason for excitement. He thought there would be time to put out the fire, but in less time than he could now relate the facts, the flames burst out in heavy volumes. The pilot was licensed by the United States, but the Captain was not. It was impossible for him to get aft after the fire was discovered. What he did on that occasion he would repeat under similar circumstances. He thought the fire originated in the fireman's room. No doubt the fire had been burning for some time before the door was opened, which gave a draft to the flames. The engineer was driven from the room in an instant. The mate and clerk generally have charge of the passengers and freight, but at the time of the fire they were trying to save the passengers. Nobody was specially attending to the boats and life preservers at the time of the fire. Only one passenger was lost forward.

The Captain said there were on board one hundred and twenty-five passengers, not counting the children. The license showed that the boat was permitted to carry only fifty passengers. The Captain said he was under the impression that she was allowed to carry one hundred and fifty passengers. Fifty passengers would not pay the expenses of the steamer. The boat was well provided with all the appliances for saving the boat and lives. There were between four and five hundred life preservers, only two of which were known to have been used. Not a soul would have been lost if the engines had not suddenly stopped.

Robert Nash, engineer of the boat, was examined. The tillers were of chain and rods, and a part of rope for ten feet on each side of the wheel. He had always found the firemen attentive to their business. The steamer was as well equipped as any boat could be. Nothing whatever was the matter with the boiler to cause the fire. All that was possible to do was done to save the passengers. The flames appeared so suddenly and the boat was so soon on fire that none had time to think.

Mr. Saville was recalled, and said he had known Nash four years. He was strictly sober and a competent engineer, and was always found at his post. His character was good.

The clerk, mate, engineer, a number of the crew and several passengers were examined, but nothing new was elicited. The testimony was to the effect that there was no chance for those aft to reach the forward part of the boat. None could tell, or even conjecture, the origin of the fire. The conduct of the officers was good throughout. Great care had always been taken to prevent fires. The orders in this respect were strict. The pumps and hose were always in good order. The Commission adjourned until to-morrow morning.

Captain Gedly says the license produced today allowing only fifty passenger to the Wawasset was erroneous, as he had in his possession a permit signed by the proper officer allowing for this year, as heretofore, one hundred and fifty passengers.

When Specie Payments Are to be Resumed.

Treasurer Spinner, in a letter published today, says: "The resumption of specie payment has been, and, I think, will continue to be, put off until a time when the balance of trade shall be in our favor. When that time arrives, resumption will be easy; in truth, it will from that cause come of its own accord. The conversion of Government stocks from a higher to a lower rate of interest is now progressing quite as fast as the present available force of the Treasury Department can comfortably manage it, and the prospect of its continuance seems to be pretty certainly assured." It is now a question with the Secretary whether he will continue to exchange for a five per cent. stock, or wait until he can place new stock at four and one-half, or even at four per cent.

Labor Statistics in Europe.

Dr. Edward Young, Chief of the Bureau of Statistics, has addressed a letter to the Consuls of the United States in Europe, requesting them to furnish such information as they can gather as to the average rates of wages received by mechanics and others, the prices at retail of the principal articles of subsistence, cost of house rent, and such other statistics of labor as can be procured. In regard to large manufacturers, they are requested to give the average weekly wages paid for experienced labor, and to each employed therein; also, in detail the weekly expenditures of mechanics and other workmen, and to gather such facts in regard to the health, comfort, education and morals as can be readily obtained. Mr. Young proposes to submit to Congress next winter a report on the cost and condition of laboring Europe as compared with the United States.

Gaugers Appointed.

The following appointments of gaugers were made to-day: B. S. Hood, for the Tenth Illinois District; Lewis C. Friat, for the First Ohio District, and L. F. Cotton, for Kansas.

INDIANA.

Desperate Attempt at Murder in a Prison.

MICHIGAN CITY, August 15.—This morning, while Chas. A. Manning, deputy warden of the prison, and Mr. St. John, President of the Board of Directors, were alone in the guard room of the prison, Joseph Simpson, a prisoner, having armed himself with a cooper's broad axe, came into the room and advanced toward Manning, and exclaimed: "Damn you, I will kill you." The deputy drew his revolver and ordered the man from the room, threatening at the same time to shoot if he did not obey. The only response the prisoner made was an attempt to strike with the axe, jumping from side to side, to avoid the pistol, and advancing upon the deputy, who still continued to order him from the room on pain of being shot. At this juncture St. John, who could obtain no better weapon, seized a chair and aimed at the prisoner, which unfortunately touched the deputy, who was somewhat in the rear of St. John. The blow, however, fell on the prisoner, but with insufficient force to prevent his further advance. Recovering himself, however, he advanced at the deputy, aiming a blow, when the latter fired. Undaunted for an instant, the prisoner still advanced, when the deputy fired again. Mustering his failing strength, the prisoner threw his axe with all his force, narrowly missing the deputy's head, and then fell back, and as he fell the deputy fired a fourth shot. The second shot was fatal, as was afterwards discovered. No motive for the murderous attack is known, except that Simpson had once escaped, and had an idea that Manning had reported him to the prison authorities when he escaped. The Coroner's jury returned a verdict exonerating Manning from all blame.

Lynch Law in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, August 15.—A special from Jefferson City says that Peter Hessler and his son August, who were arrested here on July 25 for stealing mules in Calaway county, and taken to that county for trial, and who were brought to the Jefferson City jail to prevent them being lynched, were to-day taken to Fulton, the county seat of Calaway county, for trial. On the way over August escaped from the train while in motion, near Cedar City. The old man was taken to Fulton. He plead guilty to the charge and was sentenced to six years in the penitentiary. Col. Law, Sheriff, with a posse of four, men started with the prisoner in a hack to the depot, when he was surrounded by a mob and the prisoner demanded. Upon the refusal of the sheriff to surrender the prisoner, several shots were fired into the hack, mortally wounding the sheriff, and seriously wounding the prosecuting attorney, John G. Provines, editor of the Fulton Press, John Watson, merchant, and a young man named Dunbar, who were acting as guards for the sheriff. The prisoner was taken out of town and hanged.

THE GALLOWS.

A Wife Murderer Hanged in Virginia.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., August 15.—William Jackson, colored, was hanged to-day in the jail yard for the murder of his wife in February last. Jackson made a speech fifteen or twenty minutes long, denying his guilt. The fall of seven feet failed to break his neck, and he died by suffocation after a severe struggle.

THE YELLOWSTONE.

Report on the Railroad Survey.

NEW YORK, August 15.—General Rossan, in charge of the railroad survey of the Stanley Yellowstone expedition, has submitted to the authorities of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, in this city, his official report of the results thus far accomplished by the expedition. He finds the new and final route across Western Dakota, from the Missouri to the Yellowstone river, entirely practicable and satisfactory, it being greatly superior to those of former days. The distance, two hundred and five miles, is twenty-one miles shorter than the survey of 1871. The gradients are moderate. The average of work per mile is considerable less, and the number of important bridges is reduced nearly two-thirds. The Little Missouri river, which former surveyors crossed seven and eleven times, is crossed once on the line so located. The route runs immediately through only one mile of bad clay lands, just east of the Little Missouri. With a few exceptions, the country is rolling prairie, sometimes rising into low hills, the grass being excellent and the soil good. Good water was found the entire distance. Coal outcrops at various points in veins several feet in thickness, and timber is more abundant than on the former routes.

The report stated that the main body of General Stanley's expedition, accompanied by the scientific corps and most of the press correspondents, did not accompany the engineers, who were escorted by General Custer's detachment, but followed the old abandoned route south of Pearl river. Hence the descriptions of the region traversed by the main command do not apply to the country traversed by the new route for the railroad. The Directors of the company have accepted the new line recommended by General Rossan from Bismarck, the present end of the track, to the Yellowstone crossing, and have called for proposals to grade and bridge this section of two hundred and five miles. The expedition is now pursuing the survey westward up the left bank of the Yellowstone to Pompey's Pillar, where it will join the survey made last year from the west, and thus complete the surveyed line across the continent. The entire command is expected to return to Fort Rice about October 1st.

THE CHOLERA.

Chicago.

CHICAGO, August 15.—The Times of this morning says the fact is one that need not be longer concealed, that the cholera prevails in the city; that is to say, there have been forty-two deaths from that disease. While this is true, it is also true that there is not yet any occasion for serious alarm. The area to which the visitation has been limited is not large, and is clearly defined. Moreover, there are local causes which go far toward explaining the appearance of the disease.

The local items of the Times contain reports of an interview of a reporter with several prominent physicians, all of whom state that they have treated quite a number of well defined cholera cases during the past six weeks, and one of these physicians fixes the number of deaths above these figures. The Sanitary Superintendent, Dr. Miller, and his immediate predecessor, Dr. Rauch, were also interviewed, and both admit that there have been some cases of cholera, but assert that there is and has been no cause for alarm. The cases have all occurred in the extreme southern part of the city, in crowded and dirty tenement houses, and where the only water in use has been drawn from shallow wells. The city officers have been doing everything to prevent the spread of the disease and to improve the sanitary condition of that part of the city. New water mains have been laid in the infected district. It is now supplied with pure lake water, and the Sanitary Superintendent is of the opinion that the worst is now over.

CAMP-MEETINGS.

Last Day at Canton, Ohio.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

CANTON, O., August 14, 1873.

Thursday morning opened up cloudy and threatening, and before noon the threats were abundantly fulfilled by the descent of copious showers, which continued almost without intermission till late in the night. In consequence of the rain all the services except that at ten o'clock were held in the tabernacle.

The experience meeting at 8 A. M., led by Rev. O. S. Bachtel, was pronounced by those who attended as one of the best they had ever enjoyed. The tact with which it was managed by the leader received universal commendation.

At ten o'clock Rev. Winnett Badall, of Malvern, preached from Matt. 5:44: "Love your enemies." It was unquestionably a fine sermon.

In the afternoon Rev. O. S. Bachtel preached well on "Create in me a clear heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me," 51 Psalm, 10 verse.

The special workers on the particular plan of this meeting—Dr. Miller and Revs. Dennis and Ball—had all left the grounds by Wednesday evening, being called away by other duties, so that the services of the closing day fell into the hands of Dr. Cox. The closing service was conducted by the Doctor himself. It was a communion service, and, as had been announced in advance, no sermon was preached. A brief introductory address was delivered, after which he consecrated the elements, and with the aid of the ministers present, administered them to all communicants present, of whom there were more than three hundred.

Brief, interesting, and I have no doubt profitable addresses were then delivered by Rev. P. Hohn, of the Evangelical Association, Rev. A. S. Dobbs, of the M. E. Church, Rev. B. F. Booth, of the United Brethren Church, and Rev. Joseph Armstrong of the Zion Methodist church. A most excellent state of feeling prevailed throughout the entire service. After some announcements were made by the managers, the doxology was sung, the benediction pronounced by Dr. Cox, and the fourth Ohio State camp-meeting was closed.

Men are busily engaged to-day pulling down the tents of the Association, some eighty in number, and will ship them this evening to Logan, O., to the Ohio Conference Association, to whom they have sold a half interest in them, and whose meeting commences next week.

The Ohio State Association are making an effort to have one of the National Camp Meetings held on this ground this year, and Dr. Miller is a committee to attend to the matter. If that should not succeed, it is thought a meeting under the direction of this Association will be held at some other place, perhaps Ravenna, instead of here.

As a statement was made by the correspondent of one of your "daily" neighbors, which reflects somewhat on the Committee for allowing a soda fountain to be run on Sunday, as also some other improper things, it is but just for me to say that the said offenses were a violation of the agreement made with the parties, and were not discovered by the Committee in time to be stopped.

During the continuance of this correspondence I have had occasion to mention certain things in the management of the meeting worth more or less of censure, and here it should be added that those things were almost entirely cured before the close of the meeting by the application of remedies sufficiently powerful.

Several things are worthy of high commendation. For instance, the intense earnestness of the worshipers; the singing, both as to its selections and manner; and the strict order and system to which each service was brought.

So, now, I have censured, and commended, and am done. C.

Tarentum Camp Meeting.

WEDNESDAY.

All things being ready, the religious services of the meeting began in the evening. The opening sermon was preached by Rev. W. A. Davidson of your city. Text: "So built we the walls, for the people had a mind to work." The sermon was plain, practical, earnest. The speaker's effort was to inspire the people with an enthusiasm to work—to make the meeting upon which they were entering, with God's blessing, a glorious success. The sermon was followed with singing and prayer, in which all the congregation seemed to take a deep interest.

At ten o'clock quiet reigned everywhere over the encampment. Most of the cottage owners were locked in the embrace of sleep—a sleep sounder and sweeter than is known to the dwellers in a crowded city. Here we know what pure atmosphere is. It is a luxury to health, a very benediction to life. One learns the meaning of this saying: "God made the country."

Toward morning the clouds became overburdened, and began to pour out their treasures. The rain fell in very torrents.

THURSDAY.

Morning, and still it rains. Noon, and yet down pours the torrents. The people keep indoors and read, and talk, and sing. All goes well. Three o'clock in the afternoon. It has ceased to rain; the day grows a little brighter, and the bell rings for service. A congregation assembles to hear a sermon from Rev. A. W. Butts, of your city. The text was—"I waited patiently for the Lord," etc. A good sermon, producing a fine impression.

Evening—A fine audience assembled. The sermon preached by Rev. J. C. High, city missionary. His text, Christ's words to Mary, "Thy faith hath saved thee, go in peace." His theme was the "practicability of faith." He discussed it uniquely and effectively. No man under the sun can preach like him. He is a sort of a second edition of Christmas Evans, with a few slight variations. No audience will ever sleep under his preaching. He compels attention. He is odd, not from choice, but simply because he cannot help it; and his very oddity he tries to use to promote the great end for which he evidently preaches—God's glory in the salvation of men. After the sermon Col. Danks sang "Mary Magdalene" with good effect. So endeth the second day. AMERICUS.

—The blacksmith shop, boiler house, and machine shop of the Mechanics Machine Company, in Warren, R. I., was burned last Wednesday night. Loss $50,000; insured for $32,000.

"YE OLDEN TIME."

Early Business in Pittsburgh—Who Were Prominent in 1824—The Scope of Trade in the City—Names and Facts.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

As your paper at this dull season may have space to spare, I have concluded it might interest some, and while away a little time, to give some record of the olden time. Many of our citizens, enjoying themselves at the different Summer resorts, and those at home, may be gratified with some references to the more early times of our now prosperous city. The contrast is marked and striking. I will endeavor to give some account of the early men of business in the upper part of the city, and who gave the start and "impetus" of trade in that quarter, beginning near the corner of Sixth avenue and Wood street, and extending up Liberty street to Garrison alley, at a time shortly before and after the removal of that old land mark—the Round Church. The reader can perceive the contrast and reflect upon not only the difference in improvement, but also in the certainty of the death of all things human. Very few of the pioneers in business then which will be here named, now remain.

One of these early business men, who contributed in forcing business in that direction by his indomitable perseverance and business tact, was Joseph Hazlet, and others are Macolm Leech, James McCully, Samuel Frew, John Grier, Barney Burns, John Turbitt, Francis G. Bailey, Alexander Laughlin, John McGinniss, Robert McIlwaine, Reuben Miller, Jr., Andrew Lenox Kerr, John King, Wm. Mullin, Robert Irwin, Andrew Gormley, Daniel Speer, James McKinstry, James Paul. These were the principal merchants and traders in that section of the city. In the same space were a few dwelling houses, carpenter, wagon making and blacksmith shops, and John M. Snowden, of the Pittsburgh Mercury, James McCracken, Thomas McKee, J. McConch, John Young, Samuel Barnes, Samuel Biddle (barber), Robert Davis, John Sampson, Eagle Hotel (J. Beltler), Francis Timmons, Robt. McNutt, David Ferguson. Beyond this, east of the city line, were only the dwelling houses of Hon. Walter Forward, Rev. C. B. McGuire and Thomas Fairman, and the stone yard of John Wallace. Of the above named pioneers in business and citizens but three remain to witness the great advance in the growth and importance of the city. They are John Grier, John McGinniss and R. Miller, Jr. The time here alluded to is before and up to 1824. Now, nearly half a century from that time the improvements began to go on and yet continue with giant stride, until the business now extends above this point for more than a mile. Probably I have made this article longer than it will be interesting; therefore I shall conclude by wishing all the prosperity and success to a city now beginning to take her proper position in the commercial and manufacturing branches. If this article is not already too long, I will add a short directory of old residenters, who I think have passed their three score years and been here over half a century:

AMERICANS ABROAD.

Their Vulgar Extravagance.

That eminent statesman and poet, Lamartine, said twenty years ago that if he wanted to get up a delegation of humble worshippers of royalty he would select Americans. He got this complimentary opinion of us from resident Americans in Paris; and we have continued and kept up the character since then by sending to Europe men made rich through oil, war contracts, and of late heavy stealings from the Treasury of our afflicted Government. It is sickening to sit in cars and steamboats and hear these people converse among themselves. Ill-mannered and ignorant, they have not the sense to conceal their defects, and probably sordid and mean as hucksters at home, they have here but one resource to fall back upon, and that is their money. The amazed and amused waiters receive silver when others give copper, and the greedy landlord pockets gold for the silver sensible people pay him. We sat at the window of the Imperial at Belfast—may His Satanic Majesty shake its foundations—and saw an English gentleman, a titled nob at that, give the porters two pennies for the effort made to get his valise on the omnibus in which his lordship had quietly seated himself, while an American, who had ordered a carriage to carry his valuable person to the railway station, pulled out a handful of silver and tossed shillings and half crowns to the same man. After the carriage whirled away this same porter exhibited his gains to his fellow servants, and could our liberal compatriot have heard their laugh of derision his vulgar blood would have been forced through his thick skin and astonished him with a blush. Jones is fond of repeating a conversation he overheard in a party of this sort, where a young lady wanted to know of her papa if they crossed the Alps on camels, adding that she was "dying to ride a camel." And the intelligent response was to the effect that they would see when they got there. At this a remarkably well educated old gentleman chipped in with the information that his party was a very ignorant lot; "there never had been a camel within five hundred miles of the Alps, unless it was in a menagerie; the old style of crossing was on sledges drawn by dogs of the St. Bernard breed, famous big fellows, big as calves. But that's played now; one never saw the Alps at all—the thing was tunneled. You are put in the car somewhere in France whiz, bang, you are in Italy in no time."

"Dear me," sighed the gentle female, "I don't like that; I do so want to ride a camel."—Cor. Washington Capital.

POLYGAMY.

The Prophet's Son Interviewed.

The New York Herald contains an interview between a reporter and John W. Young, a son of the Prophet, in reference to the case of Mrs. Ann Eliza Webb, one of his mothers. His views are substantially the Mormon position in the case. He admits that troubles do arise among the ladies with fractional husbands; but their faith, he avers, generally suffices to keep the dear creatures' finger nails from each others' eyes. If, for faith, the strongest form of physical and mental government ruthlessly administered is substituted, the true expression will be found to describe the means habitually used in Utah to correct refractory females. Before the Pacific Railroad was built this tyranny had nothing to temper it. Since then there is a refuge for the Mormon, male or female, who wishes to fly from the theocracy. Mr. Young contradicts Ann Eliza Webb's statements to a correspondent very flatly. He thinks she fared sumptuously and that Christian influence is at the bottom of her secession. However the suit may be treated by the Courts, we may be certain that it would never have been brought if Brother Brigham's word was law in Utah as it was when the Mountain Meadow massacre of white emigrants was perpetrated.

Too Handsome to Live

THE Toledo Commercial says that the "little party born at Columbus the other day is altogether too handsome to live long;" that it is "too good for earth," and that an "early death is the sure fate of an infant of such superlative beauty and perfection." In anticipation of the early demise of this bantling, it might be well to keep conveniently at hand the following epitaph, which was lately written on the death of a babe at Burlington, Vt.:

Here lies our darling little John;
He neither screams nor hollers;
He lived just one and twenty days,
And cost us forty dollars.

The Prince was loudly cheered, and the meeting was most enthusiastic.

GERMANY.

An Indignant Journal.

BERLIN, August 15.—The North German Gazette denounces as disgusting the invention of the report in American papers of an interview with Prince Bismarck, in which he is made to say that he would extirpate the idea of God and substitute that of the State. It declares that Bismarck never used such language or advocated such sentiments, and believes the falsehood originated in the machinations of the Jesuits.

WEST INDIES.

Quiet Restored in Havana.

HAVANA, August 15.—For the last three days rumors have been widely circulated of a disturbance to take place here, creating intence excitement. The publication by the Captain General of a telegram from the Colonial Minister of Spain, assuring the people that they need have no fear of the results of the reform measures in prospect for Cuba, has had the effect to restore confidence and tranquility.

NEW YORK.

Alleged Irregularities in the Custom House.

COMPARATIVE COTTON STATEMENT.

NEW YORK, August 15, 1873.

Alleged Customs Irregularities.

Boyd, of the firm of Piatt & Boyd, whose books were seized a short time ago on the ground of irregularities in their Custom House transactions, admits that the petty cash book of the firm contains entries of sums paid Inspectors, together with the names of the Inspectors thus paid, but adds that the money was paid to have their goods watched on the dock until removed by the firm, and to prevent them from careless handling by the Customs carmen.

It appears that on Tuesday last Secretary Richardson received information from New York to the effect that on investigation of the manner in which employes in the Appraiser's office, and a number of deputy collectors conducted business, it might be found that the interests of the United States are not properly protected. There were also suggestions as to fraud and collusion on the part of this class of officials, including in all about sixty persons. Those charged with the investigation said to be now making in the Custom House will not give any information, and all sorts of rumors are current, one being that the report to the Secretary of the Treasury was based on the statement that a man who, being dissatisfied with his share of the money received, disclosed all he knew about the matter.

A Washington special says that Secretary Richardson, when asked about the truth of the report published, said: "The Treasury Department is always investigating, not only in New York, but at every port where there is much business done. It is necessary to be constantly vigilant. Sometimes reports come from apparently disinterested parties, while at other times charges are specially made by agents of the department who have facilities for detecting fraud that mercantile communities little dream of. In this case, (referring to New York,) the information filed came from a man whose reports have heretofore been found to be strictly correct. Sweeping as they were, it was the duty of the collector to investigate, and while there is good reason for believing that a number of the accused are guilty, some may be innocent. I cannot say until I hear the result of the investigation what number will be discharged."

The Cotton Crop.

The returns of the Agricultural Department for the 1st of August indicate a general and somewhat marked improvement in the condition and promise of the cotton crop since the 1st of July. The average condition on July 1st was 85.5, and on August 1st 91.8. The chief drawback is a wide-spread apprehension of insect ravages, but the cases in which they have as yet inflicted serious injury are few. The crop on the whole is still somewhat backward, though in many localities a rapid growth in July brought it forward to an average advancement for the season.

Comparative Cotton Statement.

Net receipts at all United States ports during the week, 11,325 bales; last year, 2,441; total receipts to date, 3,573,609; last year, 2,702,622. Exports for the week, 11,167; last year, 7,723; total exports to date, 2,492,348; last year, 19,-198,679. Stock at all United States ports, 137,-126; last year, 75,302; stock at all interior towns, 19,773; last year, 6,222; stock at Liverpool, 807,000; last year, 918,000; stock of American afloat for Great Britain, 45,000; last year, 18,000.

Brooklyn Trust Company.

M. T. Rodman, late Secretary of the Brooklyn Trust Company, dis-appeared from his residence, in Brooklyn, rather mysteriously on Monday last, and rumor has it that his flight was caused by the investigation into his accounts, now being conducted by experts, under orders of the President. The directors reported that the bonds reported as collateral for his loans are utterly worthless. Another rumor concerning him is that he is a defaulter to the city treasury. He held the position of Deputy City Treasurer up to the time of the suspension of the Brooklyn Trust Company.

Mr. Motley's Illness.

NEW YORK, August 15.—A London letter, dated July 31, says: Mr. Motley's friends have for some time known his health was delicate, and will not be surprised to learn that he is now confined to his hotel by a somewhat serious attack. He has had a slight paralytic stroke. It occurred as Mr. Motley was taking Lady Margaret Beaumont down to dinner. His left arm suddenly fell powerless by his side, and the side itself was also somewhat affected. He was carried to his hotel on Dover street, and has not since left his room. The physicians agree in regarding the paralysis as by no means serious nor likely to disable him for any length of time. On inquiry we were told he had been going on very favorably with the exception of considerable neuralgic pain. The truth is, I believe, that Motley's nervous system has suffered partly from overwork and partly from the circumstances of his retirement from his mission to this Court. He has never ceased to regard himself as ill-treated and insulted, and being a proud and sensitive man, the injury has not been forgotten.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—Hon. Wm. M. Meredith, President of the Pennsylvania Constitutional Convention, is seriously ill.

—Near Augusta, Ark., on Friday, a negro woman put her two children to bed and went to church. When she returned she found the house burned to the ground and the children perished in the flames.

—The United States Treasury car passed Indianapolis yesterday, through from California via the Indianapolis, Bloomington and Western Railroad, with a large quantity of California gold on board.

—A freight train of eight cars, on the Madison branch of the J. M. & I. R. R., fell through a trestle near Mt. Vernon, Ind., yesterday afternoon. Assistant Superintendent E. J. Bordmant was on the train, and reported seriously injured.

—The Ohio Democratic State Central Committee held a meeting for consultation yesterday. It was decided to leave the plan of the campaign entirely with the Executive Committee. The campaign will probably commence on September 1.

—Thomas Smith, a wealthy farmer of Wayne township, Ohio, shot and mortally wounded John Feister, a farmer, aged 22, at Taylorsville, eight miles from Dayton, yesterday. Both had been attending a sale in the neighborhood, and were said to be under the influence of liquor.

—In Lee county, Ky., last week, Jno. Eversoll attacked his brother, named Stomfers, when the latter fired upon the former with a shotgun, instantly killing him. Forty buckshot were found in his body. Eversoll had been married only four days, and was regarded as a desperate character. Stomfers is represented as a good, industrious citizen.

Medicinal Liquors.

Impure liquors are so hurtful in their effects on the constitution that it becomes a duty on the part of those who are necessitated to their use to exercise the greatest precaution in making their purchases. Where can I get the best, the purest, and the oldest? By dropping in at No. 87 Second avenue, the reputable liquor house of Messrs. Dillinger & Stevenson, your question can be answered to the very letter. They keep good liquors, the very best whiskies and brandies that can be found anywhere. They have whiskies and brandies on hand that for quality is unsurpassed by that which is sold as the "best medicinal." Old, mellow and pure are the proper adjectives to describe them. Their ales and wines are also of the purest and best brands. Among the great variety of ales may be found Bass', Younger's, and Flowers & Sons' ales. A very fine quality of sherry, and rich and rare old port and Rhine wines. None less than the very best.

The Curiosity of a Fly.

Talk about the curiosity of a woman! We will back a fly against any woman. Just watch him as he gaily traverses a bald man's cranium, halts on the eyelid, and, taking a cursory glance around him, waltzes over to the end of the nose, peeps up one nostril, and having satisfied his curiosity there, curvettes over the upper lip, and takes a glance up the other. With a satisfactory smile at having seen all there is to be seen there, he makes a bee line for the chin, stopping a moment to explore the cavity formed by the closed lips. Arriving at the chin he takes a notion to creep down under the shirt collar, but suddenly hesitating, he turns around as if he had forgotten something, and proceeds to an exploration of the ears. This concluded, he carries out his original intention, and disappears between the neck and shirt collar, emerging, after the lapse of some minutes, with an air seeming to say he has performed his duty. What matters the frantic attempts to catch him, the enraged gestures, and the profane language? They disturb his equanimity not a moment; driven from one spot he alights on another: he finds he has got a duty to perform, and he does it.—Lawrence American.

AN extensive war between Pawnee and Sioux Indians, is said to be imminent.

CHICAGO is, and has been, for a time, afflicted with the cholera. Forty-two deaths are now reported. The papers there have pursued the unwise policy of ignoring the presence of the disease.

WHEN the Post has a sufficient sense of propriety to avoid the use of epithets toward this journal, it will be time enough for it to tender us advice in reference to papers quite as able to take care of themselves as is the Post.

REPORTS are current that the Samana Bay Company, of which so much was heard a short time ago, is likely to be broken up, if it has not been already. The affair has dropped out of sight, and those who were foremost in it are not anxious to talk about it. It is even said that the first year's rent has not been paid, and there is but little prospect of the affair coming to anything at all. So another wonderful scheme vanishes in air.

THE St. Louis Globe, discussing the third term theory, declares "that against a third term public opinion is so firmly fixed, is so universal and deep-rooted, that it would be mere madness in any party to assail; that ninety-nine out of a hundred Republicans to-day feel something very like indignation when it is proposed that a President shall be chosen for a third term," and that the party would be "sacrificed by a nomination which they believe would not be sustained by the people." Then why talk about it?

THE Democratic Press desire to give a partisan aspect to the back pay business. We commend to them the following facts:

Every Democratic Congressman from Ohio has drawn and kept his back pay.

Every Democratic Congressman from Missouri has drawn and kept his back pay.

Every Democratic Congressman from Pennsylvania has drawn and kept his back pay.

Every Democratic Congressman from Kentucky has drawn and kept his back pay.

Every Democratic Congressman from New Hampshire has drawn and kept his back pay.

The only Democratic Congressman from Michigan has drawn and kept his back pay.

Samuel J. Randall, the official head of the Democratic party in this State, voted in favor of the salary grab swindle eight times and drew and pocketed the money.

THE probability is that Lord Dufferin will yet realize that he has made a mistake in proroguing the Canadian Parliament, in the face of petitions, memorials, addresses of Parliamentary Committees, and expressions of public opinion, urging him to permit the House of Commons to investigate the Canadian Pacific Railroad scandal. He proposes to investigate by means of a Royal Commission, which is very much like a pack of thieves passing judgment on their own crimes. The parties implicated are the members of Lord Dufferin's Cabinet, and these gentlemen will nominate the members of the Royal Commission. So palpable a purpose, on the part of the Government, to whitewash the affair has met with intense opposition. Only thirty of the one hundred and thirty members of the House of Commons respected to summons proroguing Parliament, and indignation meetings are being held.

WE HOPE the Fort Snelling reservation business, to which we have several times alluded, will be brought up in Congress and properly investigated. John B. Floyd, Buchanan's Secretary of War, sold this land, but it is claimed, without having exacted the conditions of the purchaser, required by the act of Congress under which the sale was made. A letter from Attorney General Black is published as official endorsement of the legality of the sale. It seems, when this is investigated, that while it is probable that Floyd was seeking to cunningly inveigle the Attorney General into an endorsement of the sale, he really inquired concerning a minor issue, and was answered in reference to this alone. This issue was, whether, the sale having been made, the privilege could be conferred on Steele of selling certain portions of the reservation which Floyd assumed to have been legally conveyed to him. Mr. Black denied that the Department had power to do more than sell,—and this was the point of his letter. The subject should be thoroughly investigated.

SO NOTORIOUS is the bad faith of the Democratic party, as between its profession and practice, that it is becoming the staple of comment everywhere. Says the New York Post, "as showing what their professions of faith are worth, the Maryland Convention adopted a resolution in favor of a revenue tariff, when it is notorious that they persist in electing Senators and Representatives who are only second to those of Pennsylvania in upholding 'protection;' and they mildly protested against the Congressional Salary bill, notwithstanding that their most popular leaders are their Congressional delegation, who unanimously voted for and took the back pay." In this State it is even worse. Samuel J. Randall, the Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, voted for and received back pay, as did every Democratic member of Congress from this State, save one. Yet Democratic papers are trying to make Republicans responsible for the rascality. When they are in Convention, where their utterances amount to something, they draw it mild.

OUR ELECTORAL SYSTEM.

The idea of changing the method of electing the President and Vice President of the United States will attract more favorable attention on the part of the people than any issue that can be raised relative to a third term of office. There has been a settled feeling for years that our Electoral College is a cumbrous, complex and unnecessary arrangement, which may, in time, fail to fairly represent the people in certain exigencies that may possibly arise. There are several examples in which its decisions were not in accord with the popular verdict, if interpreted in the light of the aggregate vote of the people. Mr. Lincoln did not receive a majority of the whole number of votes cast in 1860, but he had a majority of the electoral votes.

Senator Morton has this question under consideration, and will bring it to the attention of Congress, it is understood, at its next session. Thus far the Electoral College has performed its duty faithfully, and its different members have cast their votes according to the terms of their election. But the developments of last year, connected with the death of Horace Greeley, show the possibility of grave complications. There is nothing to compel the electors to cast their votes for a given person, and in a case of death, the majority of electors might elect a person to the Presidency who had not before been thought of in connection with that position. Had Mr. Greeley represented the victorious party, it is very doubtful whether his electors would have cast their votes in behalf of Gratz Brown for President. This possibility might again occur. We are never sure that an elector will fairly represent the majority in his State. Hence Senator Morton introduced a resolution in the Senate, calling for an investigation of our electoral system, and now, as chairman of the committee appointed under this resolution, is making the investigations necessary for preparing his report. He is understood to favor a district system of voting, the Congressional districts in each State being the basis of the plan. We hope he may succeed in so modifying our present system, as to relieve it of its dangers.

PARTY ISSUES.

It is quite clearly developed, by the initial movements of the rival political parties, in this country, that the Democracy will maintain its old attitude of simple hostility to Republicanism without offering, or attempting to offer, anything better as a substitute. We naturally supposed, that with the experience of the past ten years, and especially with the culminating defeat of last year, some wisdom would be learned, and new tactics developed. It was even intimated that this would be so. The Groesbeck letter was generally accepted as one of the results of a spirit of inquiry among Democrats as to what must be done. And these inquiries were understood to have been prompted by a settled conviction, that it was sheer folly to attempt to run the party longer on the old plan, and with the old issues. The Allen county movement in Ohio was accepted as one of the outcroppings of the new plan, and fuller revelations were expected when the several conventions should be held. But disappointment has attended every expectation indulged, and all the promises and hopes held out have been like the apples of Sodom—they have turned to ashes. Such is a general statement of the situation of that party so far.

There are those in its ranks who are outspoken in their belief that the time has come for the abandonment of the party name and organization. The Chicago Times and St. Louis Republican do not hesitate to give expression to this idea. There are very many connected with the Democratic party who see and appreciate the uselessness of continuing the struggle on the basis so long maintained. The anxious inquiry put forth from year to year, for a rallying principle, the mortifying failures which so regularly follow, and worse than all, the adoption from year to year, of the ideas and doctrines put forth by the Republican party the year previous, have seemed to discourage and disgust the more honest of the party. The fusion with the Liberals last year was the finishing blow, and the inquiry has become general—"why continue the organization any longer." We strongly incline to the belief, that back of platforms and resolutions, this will become, if not this, at least next year, the chief political issue for discussion.

On the leading issues of the day the Democracy will not, and cannot make a contest. They will seek to go back of the real questions that are up for discussion, and assail men, or attempt to fasten on the party, deeds which were alike performed by members of both organizations. The salary grab represents one of these. It has been vigorously and definitely denounced by the Republican party, and its repeal demanded. Those who voted for it and took the money, merely represented themselves, so far as that act was concerned. But if the Republican party is, in any sense responsible for that measure, the Democratic party is at least equally responsible,—as a larger per centage of Democrats than Republicans drew the money and voted for the law. In the distribution of public lands among corporations, and, in a word, every measure specially obnoxious, the respective political parties were not represented,—but irrespective of party affiliation, members of Congress did as seemed to them best. These are not, therefore, party issues, as regards the past.

But being so in the present and future, the Republican party has been thoroughly outspoken. It demands the unconditional repeal of the salary grab bill; it denounces the further bestowment of land on corporations; it requires the economical administration of Government, in order that the public debt may be rapidly paid; in brief, it measures fully up to the present state of popular feeling, and proposes, if continued in power, to thoroughly realize the most recent demands of the people. It can appeal to the past for evidence of its faithfulness in realizing promises. The firmness of President Grant was tested, when he first came into power. The financial policy, marked out by the Chicago Platform, and to which he felt himself pledged, was bitterly assailed, the New York Tribune leading in the fray. The President simply referred to the public declarations made by his party in his behalf, and affirmed his purpose to give them effect. This has been, in the main, the policy of the party, all along. We have only to refer to the declarations of the Philadelphia Platform to know what the policy of the Republican Platform will be for three years to come. There is, therefore, nothing to assail it with. And if the Democratic party has nothing better than this to live for, it had better quietly disband.

POLITICAL NOTES.

THE Republicans of Huntingdon county have nominated the following ticket, viz: Assembly, W. K. Burchinell; Treasurer, T. W. Montgomery; Commissioner, C. R. McCartney; Poor Director, James H. Lee; Auditor, James H. Davis; Jury Commissioner, John G. Stewart; Coroner, John Laporte.

THE Washington Reporter says: "A dissatisfied correspondent of the Advance wants an independent Legislative candidate, and suggests the following names: J. Norris Walker, Joseph B. Welsh, J. N. McDonald, Finley Patterson, William J. Alexander, John A. Happer and Gen. Thos. Jackson, of Washington. We imagine these gentlemen will not thank Mr. 'Reform' for using their names in this connection."

IN Wyoming the skull of an ancient party has been discovered, with his other bones, imbedded in solid rock. It is understood that the Democracy of Ohio will run this Western fossil for President, provided all his bones can be assembled. As the New York World will remark, he has the advantage of not having been mixed up with anything that has been done or forborne in American politics within the memory of any voter.—Detroit Post.

THE Maine election of Governor, Legislature, etc., occurs on Monday, September 8. The Republican nominee for Governor is Nelson Dingley, Jr., of the Lewiston Journal, understood to stand for Speaker Blaine as next United States Senator or Presidential candidate. The Democratic nominee is Joseph Titcomb, of Kennebunk, twenty years retired from politics, and described now as "an uncompromising Democrat, who clings with remarkable tenacity to the primitive beliefs of the old Democratic school."

THE next United States Senator from New Jersey will be elected to fill the vacancy made by the expiration of the term of Hon. John P. Stockton, March 4, 1875, and the Legislature elected in 1874 will decide the question, while all State Senators chosen this year will hold over and have a vote for Mr. Stockton's successor. Mr. Stockton will probably be the candidate of the Democrats, and will have for competitors Governor Joel Parker and ex-Governor Randolph, while the Republicans will choose from Hon. A. G. Cattell, Hon. G. M. Robeson, and ex-Governor Marcus L. Ward. The term of the other United States Senator from New Jersey, Frederick T. Frelinghuysen, will expire March 3, 1877.

THE Harrisburg State Journal says that Hon. Joseph Laubach, of Northampton county, seems to be destined for the Democratic candidacy for State Treasurer. Judge Laubach is a gentleman in the enjoyment of many honors. The Scranton Republican says he is one of the Associate Judges of Northampton county, also President of the Northampton Savings Bank, also President of the Lehigh Valley Iron Company, also President of the Board of Trustees of the Allentown Female College, also Trustee of the Franklin and Marshall College, also Trustee of the Orphans' Home, of Womelsdorf, besides manager and director in a score of other smaller institutions. Surely Judge Laubach must have his hands full outside of politics.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

PARAGUAY, Brazil and the Argentine Republic have signed a treaty of peace.

ROUHER, with other prominent French Imperialists, are at Chiselhurst, celebrating the fete.

DISPATCHES from various places in Germany state that the cholera is increasing in virulence.

AFTER Mr. Casey had finished reading the "Declaration" on the Fourth, at Mound City, Ill., a man rose and moved that the speech be published, as it was one of the best speeches he had ever "heern" in his life.

AN Indianapolis woman advertises as follows: "Wanted—The people to know that I left my husband, Henry H. Todd, one year ago, because I ascertained that he was part negro, and had deceived me. Sarah Jane Todd."

THE Madison Journal says the business circles in Northern Wisconsin are excited over immense failures of parties in the lumber trade at Green Bay. It is understood that the total liabilities of two firms will reach $500,000.

R. J. DOBBINS, on last Saturday, sold at Long Branch a number of lots fronting on the ocean, the entire sale footing up $137,195. Some of the land sold at the rate of $30,000 per acre. The same ground was sold in 1865 at $600 per acre.

THREE women have been arrested in Brooklyn, charged with complicity in the murder in Albany, last week, of a man whose name and former residence have not been made known. One of the women is said to be the widow of the man murdered.

AN Indiana man claims to have succeeded in playing a thorough confidence game upon the potato bug. He planted a grain of corn in each potato hill, and, as the corn came up first, the bugs thought it was a corn-field and started for other scenes.

JOHN BAILEY, while walking along the street in Erie, on Thursday, stumbled and fell on the pavement, breaking his neck. He was uncle of Richard Bailey Norton, formerly Mayor of Chicago, and was adopted and educated by Bishop Straud, of Toronto.

A GREEN BAY merchant put out a sign of "ice water free." Another put out a sign of free lemonade, and a third offered every customer 10 cents in money. A fourth man, who couldn't think of anything better, got up a dog fight, and it drew all the crowd.

A NEGRO thief, in Hart county, Georgia, attempting to enter a store by way of the chimney, wedged himself so tightly in the flue that the chimney had to be torn down next day, before he could be extricated and escorted to a place of safety, that is, to a cell in the county jail.

A WASHINGTON dispatch says the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, in accordance with the provisions of an act of Congress, is addressing circulars to all Collectors of Internal Revenue, directing them to report upon the nature of the business done by savings banks.

APROPOS of the tornado that recently swept over Keokuk and Washington counties, Iowa, by which so many lives were lost and so much property destroyed, we observe that one journal has in a single sentence summed up its terrific force: It was a wind that just sat up on its hind legs and howled!"

THE Boston Globe states that the girls of that city wear hanging to the Russian leather band which encircle their slender waists eight articles, namely: Sun umbrella, vinaigrette, pocket-book, fan, bunch of keys, glove buttoner, small case for thimble and scissors, handkerchief, and on Sundays an ornamental prayer-book.

ST. PETER'S CHURCH, in Rome, required for its erection 176 years, and to complete the structure an additional 124 years. Its cost was $50,000,000 in gold, and to keep it in repair requires an annual expenditure of $20,000. Of its vast dimensions, perhaps the best idea is conveyed by the statement that it covers eight acres of ground.

THE Eau Claire and Chippewa rivers, in Wisconsin, are both very low, and mill men are becoming anxious for fear of scarcity of logs. Thus far the mills have all run with full hands, and a few have plenty of logs for the season. The mills in the valley manufactured 290,000,000 feet last year, but will fall short about 40,000,000 this year.

MR. VANDERBILT, of the Treasury Department, has returned to Washington from his investigation of supposed frauds in the New York Custom House, and reports to Secretary Richardson that there is nothing whatever to implicate certain officers in wrong-doing. His visit had no connection whatever with the removal of anybody, nor had any orders been previously issued for that purpose.

A HARVEST festival was held at Clinton, Dewitt county, Ill., on Thursday, which was participated in by some five thousand people. Addresses were delivered by Governor Beveridge, ex-Governor Palmer, and General Black. The speeches made were mainly confined to a discussion of the wants and needs of the farmers and the most practicable means of relief from the alleged impositions of the railroads. The meeting was in no way a political one.

WM. HOWARD, of Louisville, a stone cutter employed by Anderson & Venn on the Masonic temple in Memphis, committed suicide Thursday at his boarding house by cutting his throat with a razor. He had been drinking hard for several days. When found he was still alive, and sighed for a pencil and paper, which being given him, he scrawled "family troubles," and soon after died. After cutting his throat he stabbed himself five or six times in the body.

ADVICES from the Pawnee reservation, Nebraska, say the Pawnees are preparing for a war with the Sioux, in retaliation for the attack upon them some days ago. They are said to have about six hundred warriors among themselves, and have invited the Otoes, Omahos, Yanktons and Penios to join them, nearly all of whom have accepted the invitation; and at last accounts the braves of these tribes were either at or on their way to the Pawnee reservation. The Pawnees expect to muster sixteen hundred warriors and prosecute a relentless war against the Sioux.

IN Rockport, Atchison county, Missouri, on Thursday, P. G. Morgan, an old citizen living near Senora, went to the office of Durfee, McKelloy & Co., on business. He got into an altercation with Col. Durfee, seized him by the throat and struck him, whereupon Durfee caught up a notary seal and hit Morgan on the head, knocking him down. In falling Morgan fell out of the door and struck his head on a stone step, fracturing his skull, from the effects of which he died a few hours afterwards. Morgan is said to have been intoxicated and very abusive. Durfee is a prominent lawyer, and the affair created great excitement.

A SINGULAR report comes from Washington that the North German Confederation has again informally requested of the State Department that in the selections of Consols and diplomatic officers to represent the United States in Germany, naturalized citizens from that country should not be taken. The reason assigned for this singular request is that naturalized Germans who occupy positions that bring them in communication with the fatherland become active in soliciting their countrymen to follow their example in coming to the United States, and the representations made by these officials of their old friends and relatives, naturally exert a powerful influence, as is shown in the immigration list. It is said that American immigration is beginning to exert a visible effect upon the German military organization.

NEW YORK appears to double its assessed valuation every fifteen years. At least that has been the rule starting from 1841. Going thirty years further back, the increase was still more rapid. In 1811 New York had fairly distanced Philadelphia in the number of its population, and started as the first city of the Union with a population of 96,000, and an assessed valuation of $25,000,000. By 1841 the population had nearly quadrupled, while the assessed valuation had increased tenfold, amounting then to $251,194,920. After an interval of fifteen years—in 1856—the population had all but exactly doubled, and the assessed valuation has doubled also,—amounting then to $511,740,492. The next fifteen years added only fifty per cent. to the population, but doubled the valuation of real and personal property. In spite of sundry obvious obstacles to a steadily maintained rate of increase, it is not too much to anticipate that by 1886 the gross assessment of property in Manhattan Island will be over $2,000,000,000.—*N. FINANCIAL.

OFFICE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, August 15, 1873.

Appearances indicate that the money market is beginning to show the effect of the very general anticipation of a close ruling the coming Fall. During the entire day the market was comfortably active, with the tone growing firmer, and there was discrimination by many of the banks against all applicants for favors except those who have claims upon them. Customers, however, obtained all necessary accommodation at current rates of discount.

The Philadelphia Ledger has little or no change to report in the rates for money. The banks generally have something left over after supplying their customers, and outside paper is in good demand. The choicest short dated paper passes at from 6½ to 7 per cent., but is very scarce. The average rate of good mercantile paper is not far from 7 per cent., but more or less passes at 7½ to 8. Call loans are steady, with a light demand at 5@6 per cent., money occasionally being offered to the bankers by private lenders at lower rates.

The Boston Globe reports call money as quite plentiful supply, while rates on long paper evince a further hardening tendency and were decidedly firmer. Short date still passes at 7 per cent., but the bulk of the transactions in prime names at four months is now at 7½, and business notes with a well-known New York endorsement were offered here, to-day, at 8 per cent. The note brokers generally report brisk sales, and the advance in figures is met by an active investment demand.

The condition of the financial matters in Chicago is thus stated by the Tribune:—For the last week there has been more currency moving Westward than there was for the three or four weeks previous, thus giving some indications of preparations for marketing the crops. The periodic fall movement of currency for that purpose has, however, not begun yet; there is still a good deal of currency coming back to the city, and the supply here is still large enough to make it unnecessary to bring currency from New York. Money is still abundant in this market for gilt edged paper, and we even hear of private lenders offering money at 8 per cent. on prime 30 and 60 day commercial paper. There is, however, comparatively little of this class of paper in the market. If lenders were willing to let their money out for 90 days or four months it would be quickly taken at 10 per cent., but the probability that a month hence the demand for loans will be large, and that we shall experience the usual stringency in October and November, induces capitalists to keep themselves free from larger engagements than sixty days.

NEW YORK, August 15, 1873.

Money closed at 2½@2¾ per cent. Sterling was weak and lower at 108⅛@108⅜ for sixty days and 109⅜@109½ for sight. Customs receipts to-day $550,000. The total imports for the week ending to-day were $6,076,668, of which $3,076,668 were dry goods and $3,000,000 merchandise. The Gold Exchange was excited to-day over large transactions by Gould's brokers. One firm bought $8,000,000 at 114⅜ to 113⅞. It is thought the purchase was made to prevent a decline to 114, as the market showed great weakness during the morning. The fact that the premium advanced so little gave rise to the belief that the purchases and sales were "washed." At the opening the price was 114⅜, but soon declined to 114⅛, afterward advancing to 115, and closing with sales at 114⅞. Loans were 1@3 per cent to flat for carrying. The clearings were unusually heavy, amounting to $99,000,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $119,000. Governments closed strong, with an active demand and limited offering. State bonds were dull. With the exception of transactions in Pacific Mail, the stock market was devoid of interest. The fluctuations, with the exception of that stock, were from ⅛ to ⅜. The changes in Pacific Mail were from 40⅛ to 41⅝, back again to 41, and up to 41¼. The market closed quiet, with a firm undertone.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, August 16, 1873.

There is more complaint just now, in some branches of trade, of small margins than any thing else, and it is owing to a bitter competition in which there is no sense, and for which there is not the slightest necessity: trade is not in a healthy or satisfactory condition, when goods, which are appreciating at the leading centres, as well as the source of supply, are being sold here at or below cost, as is the case just now. It is true, that competition, when properly and fairly conducted, is very necessary: as the saying is, it is the life of trade, but whenever it is made a personal matter it has a bad effect, as it not only injures those who are the principals in it, but it cripples others engaged in the same line of business. It is said, we do not vouch for its correctness, that there is more jealousy among Pittsburgh merchants than can be found in any other city in the country, hence, "cutting" is the order of the day, and this has had considerable to do with the present unsatisfactory condition of affairs—the fault is fully as much if not more within ourselves than without. If our merchants and manufacturers would crush out this jealousy; if they would work more together instead of pulling away and endeavoring to injure each other, there is no doubt but what trade would be much more satisfactory, and we are very sure it would not fall off in any consequence.

BEANS—There is some little inquiry, and we continue to quote at $2.50@3 per bushel.

BUTTER—There is a continued steady demand for prime butter, and the market is firm with sales at 20@22, and some dealers quote up to 25, but this as yet is regarded as an outside figure.

CHEESE—Continues to come in quite freely, but with a steady demand prices are fully sustained; prime Ohio Factory, 13 for round lots, and 14 in a jobbing way. Sweitzer, 15@17, as to quality.

EGGS—The market continues exceedingly dull, at least it is so reported by dealers generally, and prices are weak and drooping; we reduce our quotations to 14@15.

FRUITS—Apples coming in quite freely, but with a steady demand prices are still maintained, $3@4 per brl. for good to choice. Peaches also in good supply, with sales at $2@2.50 per box. Plums, $3@3.50 per box. Black berries, $8@9 per stand of two bushels. Watermelon market dull and overstocked: $10@20 per 100.

FLOUR—Market especially for Spring wheat flours strong, and dealers are now holding, and refusing to sell for less, at an advance of 25c ℔ brl: we continue to quote at $7.25@7.50 ℔ brl. It is said, taking the present prices in the west as a basis, that choice old Minnesota flours can not be laid down here under $7.50. Winter wheat flours, old, firmer but unchanged, $8@8.25.

GRAIN—The market is quiet, and presents but little that is new or really important; the inquiry is to supply immediate wants, consequently mainly for small lots, while prices remain without quotable change. There is a continued steady demand for wheat, and we continue to quote at $1.40@1.45 for new red winter, and $1.55@1.60 for old, according to quality. Oats in steady demand also, but the supply is fully equal to it, and prices remain unchanged at 42@43 for mixed and 43@45 for white. There is rather more inquiry for Corn, and the market is firm in consequence: we now quote at 56@58 free in elevator, according to quality, and the same quotations will answer for Ear. Rye is scarce and there is some inquiry for it; sales reported at 80. Barley is higher west—No. 2 fall quoted at $1@1.02 in Chicago on Thursday; as yet there has been little or nothing done in this market, and there are no established quotations.

GROCERIES—The market is moderately active, but is devoid of a single new feature not already noticed: both Sugars and Coffees continue firm, but there has been no quotable change in prices.

COFFEE—Choice Rio, 26; Good to Prime, 22½@24½c. fair 22@23½c. Old Government Java, 28c; other Javas, 26@27c. Roasted Rio, 1 lb packages, 28c; loose, 27½c. Roasted Java, 33½.

SYRUPS—White Drips, 65; other grades ranging from 60 to 40, as to quality.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 10; prime, 9. Patna, 8@8½; Rangoon, 7½@8.

MOLASSES—Choice New Orleans, 73@75c. Prime 70@72.

SUGARS—Patent Cut Loaf, 13c; Crushed, Granulated and Powdered, 12; Standard A, 11⅛; B, 11¼; Ex. C, 11c; C, Yellow, 10½; Circle C, 9½; Lower grades, 9@10.

HAY—The market for baled continues dull, but prices are nominally unchanged, $20@25, according to quality.

POTATOES—Coming in more freely, but with a steady demand, prices are still maintained; we can report regular sales at $1 ℔ bushel.

ONIONS—$5@5.50 per barrel.

POULTRY—Sales of young or spring chickens at 30 to 40 cents, and full grown or old ones at 70 to 80 cents ℔ pair, according to size.

RAGS—Quoted at 3¼@3½c.

SEEDS—Flax Seed is quotable at $1.90 per bushel, and Timothy at $4.50. There is but little doing.

TALLOW—Quoted at 7¾@8c ℔ lb.

PITTSBURGH IRON AND NAIL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
PITTSBURGH, Friday, August 15, 1873.

There is some little inquiry for finished irons, but trade cannot by any means be termed active; indeed, it is not, at least, it is so reported, as good as it usually is at this season of the year. Those mills that have started up, as a rule, are only running single turn, which is good evidence that orders are not very plenty, notwithstanding prices are low. Three and a quarter cents ℔ lb may be regarded as the ruling selling rate, time, although the card remains unchanged at 3 and 8 tenths. There is a fair trade in Nails, but the market cannot be called brisk, although as noted in our last report, stocks, both in first and second hands, are said to be light. We continue to quote at $4¾ per keg.

TERMS—Note or acceptance at sixty days, with exchange on New York, or discount of 2 per cent. for cash, if remitted within ten days from date of invoice. Payments to be made in New York Exchange, United States Treasury Notes, or their equivalent. No discount on bills of less amount than fifty dollars.

Western Trade.

Western merchants have undoubtedly had a hard time during the last six months. Farmers have been exceedingly poor, and have been obliged to practice economy to a greater extent than for some years past. Notwithstanding the greater value of wheat per bushel, corn is the great item in the prosperity of the West and the activity of trade. Minnesota and Northern Iowa have been more prosperous than other sections this year, because their great product is wheat, which has been sustained at a comparatively fair price, but the other sections, whose great staples are corn and pork, have been much depressed. We believe, however, that a better time is coming. The export demand for corn is increasing, and the revival of the export trade in highwines and alcohol to a degree that will exercise an important influence on the price of corn seems more than probable. In regard to the crop of wheat in the Northwest, every report confirms the opinion that the exportable surplus of wheat in the Northwest will be much greater than ever before known. In Southern Wisconsin and Northern Iowa the amount of wheat raised this year is nearly three times as much as in any previous one. The area of land planted was much greater than usual, and the yield throughout that section will be at least 50 per cent. greater than for some years. The present aspects of the foreign demand afford the prospect that the exportable surplus will meet with a ready market at fair prices, thus making a substantial basis for prosperity, and active trade in the West this fall and next spring.—Chicago Tribune.

PIG IRON AND BLOOM MARKET. WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, August 15, 1873.

We were in hopes, at the date of our last report, that there would be a decided improvement in the pig iron trade before another week had elapsed, but we are sorry to state, our expectations have not been realized. Not only has there been no increase in the demand, but we are informed by commission men that there were was but very little inquiry, hence the situation, according to present indications is no more encouraging than it was a month ago. Operators generally seem to be discouraged, and with good reason, as they had expected that there would have been a revival, or at least, good evidence of it before this; however, the market may take a turn some of these days, as it not unfrequently does, when least expected. Prices, although weaker, are nominally unchanged.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, August 15, 1873.

The Crude market was again reported firmer to day, and that, too, in the face of two additional strikes, said to aggregate 800 barrels; and prices as compared with yesterday have still further advanced; quoted at $1.20@1.25 per bbl at Parker, equal to about 3¾@3½c per gallon delivered here. Refined also firmer, but quiet and unchanged; 12½@12¾ on cars here, and 15½@16 delivered in Philadelphia—no sales reported.

New York Iron Market.

NEW YORK, August 14.—American Pig.—No. 1 Iron is not very abundant, and the value remains about steady at $45 for prime Lehigh brands. Most of the more prominent companies, however, are sold ahead, and being behind hand in their deliveries, are out of the market. No. 2 Foundry Iron is in very heavy stock, and offerings are liberal at a decided reduction. The actual value is very difficult to arrive at, the market being in such an unsettled condition that hardly two persons in the trade have the same idea in regard to prices. We quote $36@34. Gray Forge Iron has accumulated in stock very largely, and lots are offering freely at $3?@35 ℔ ton. White and Mottled is held at $28@29. The general demand during the past week has been a trifle more active than for some time past, and we note sales of 200 tons No. 1 at $46. 250 tons Gray Forge at $35. 1,000 tons do at $34, 200 tons No. 1 Thomas, 200 tons No. 2 Thomas, 200 tons No. 1 Allentown, 200 tons No. 2 Carbon, and 200 tons Gray Forge, all on private terms. Scotch Pig.—Since the late advance here through speculation, there is more Glengarnock being shipped and offering to arrive than for several weeks past, and this has given a trifle easier tone to the market, though, quotably, prices remain about the same. The stock on the spot is not very heavy, and mostly held by speculators. Sales during the week include about 8 to 900 tons Glengarnock and Eglinton, mostly the former, at $44@45 for Eglinton and $47@48 for Glengarnock. Small lots of Glengarnock have realized $48.50@47. Coltness is in light stock, and firmly held at $51@52. Gartsherrie held at $47@48 per ton.—Iron Age.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was rising slowly last evening, with 9 feet 9 inches in the channel. As there was no rise in the Monongahela, there is not likely to be as much water as was expected. There was only 26 inches in the Allegheny at Oil City at last accounts and rising slowly. However, there is good barge water, and a large amount of coal will be got out.

A dispatch from Cincinnati under date of yesterday says: The Mollie Ebert, bound from Portsmouth to Cincinnati, is reported at the bank below Manchester, disabled.

We see it stated that Captain George Fellers, of Vicksburg, has offered $16,000 for the R. W. Skillinger, which was declined.

Captain D. S. H. Gilmore, who accompanied Captain Evans to Yankton, stopped in Iowa on his way back to visit some relatives.

The Bengal Tiger with a tow of empty barges, and the Granite State, from Portsmouth, arrived and departed.

The Juniata, from Cincinnati, is due to-day, and will depart early next week. Passengers and shippers should bear in mind that the Juniata was built expressly for the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati packet trade, and Capt. Brennan has kept her steadily on the track.

The Fearless barges, as will be seen by card, are announced for St. Louis forthwith.

Captain W. S. Evans, of the well known boat store firm of Evans, Dallas and Gilmore, and Captain Mart Coulson, of the Far West, reached here yesterday, from Yankton. Captain Coulson will start back in about ten days; his boat will load after the Durfee and Key West. J. B. Dallas, who was also at Yankton, has gone to St. Paul.

Captain Dan Moore returned to Cincinnati the other day to get the Arlington in shape for the fall trade. Mr. A. C. McConnell, we understand, will have charge of the office of the Arlington this season.

The auction sale of coal barges &c, &c, belonging to the estate of J. V. McDonald, deceased, at Cork's Run, yesterday, was well attended, and everything was sold and at very good prices. Following are the details:

—The Cincinnati Gazette of Thursday says: Mr. A. Ward Robinson, of the Evening Times, is arranging for the publication of a weekly paper to be called "The Traveling Record," and to be conducted after the manner of the Ohio River Traveler. It will be larger than the latter sheet, and will be furnished to all steamboats free, it being expected that the advertising patronage will pay the expense of publication. The first number will appear next Monday week.

—Saturday's Galveston Commercial says: A very important organization was effected last night at the shipping office of Mr. William H. Prowse. All the boatmen of the bay, to the number of 130, organized an association for the advancement of their interests, and to afford each other mutual aid and protection. The title "The Boatmen's Mutual Aid and Protection Association."

She goes to Pittsburgh to get 1,500 tons railroad iron for the Iron Mountain Railroad, which she will tow in barges.....McLaughlin's wharfboat, at Ironton, sunk yesterday from overloading. The starboard guard is three feet under water. It was insured for $1,500.

—The St. Paul Pioneer says: "Passenger travel on the river has never been so heavy as it is now. The Red Wing brought up one hundred and fifty cabin passengers, and went out on Thursday night with two hundred and fifty, at least, every stateroom being occupied and a large number of cots being brought into requisition. Most of these passengers were going below Davenport."

—The St. Louis Globe says: The underwriters have established their rate on barges towed by steamers on the Missouri River at one per cent., although one insurance company succeeded in getting one per cent. per minute Monday on the Grafton's barges, the application being made about one minute before her arrival.

—Captain Goll, recently deceased, a well known St. Louis steamboatman, was born at Harmony, Butler Co., but removed to St. Louis in 1837, with his parents when quite young.

Saved from Drowning.

Yesterday afternoon a little girl named Lou Hamilton, was playing on a raft in the Monongahela river, at the foot of First street, South Side, when the waves of a passing steamer shook it so hard, that she was thrown off into the water. She would probably have been drowned, but as she was sinking for the second time she was rescued, and thus her life was saved.

More Serious Than at First Reported.

On last Monday morning we mentioned the stabbing under the eye, of a young man named Hart, in a saloon on Beaver avenue, Allegheny. It appears now that his injuries are worse than at first reported. Yesterday the wound re-opened while he was at work and commenced to bleed profusely. It is supposed that a small artery has been cut. He was very much exhausted from loss of blood, and had to be taken to his home.

HAM FAT MEN.

Peddling Diseased Meat Throughout the City.

Yesterday afternoon Meat Inspector Lindsay made an information before Mayor Blackmore charging Alphonso Kaldollar and J W. Harrison with selling diseased hams. The manner in which the accused disposed of their disease-creating meat is as follows: They traveled through the city with a wagon load of hams, canvassed, selling them to private families for twelve and thirteen cents a pound, which is about five cents below the regular retail price. In East Liberty they attempted to sell a ham to a man who knew something about meat, but he told them that something must be the matter with it or they could not afford to sell it at that price. Information of the transaction reaching Inspector Lindsay he started after them, and succeeded in warning several families that had purchased hams not to use them, as they were unfit to eat. In a tavern Mr. Lindsay discovered two of the hams. One of them had been cut, and part of it was in a pot on the stove cooking with a lot of cabbage. Mr. Linday asked the landlord for the other ham, which was brought to him, and he cut it open before the boarders. The smell from it was very bad. He then had the piece of meat in the pot taken out, and the odor from it was even more unpleasant than from the other. Summonses have been issued for Kaldollar & Harrison, and when they are arrested Mr. Lindsay thinks he can find out where the hams originally came from, as he is of the opinion that they were purchased from some wholesale house for a mere song.

IMPROVING THE YOUGHIOGHENY.

Meeting Next Tuesday—Extending the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.

The incorporators of the Youghiogheny Navigation Company will meet next Tuesday at McKeesport, to organize and open subscription books. Action will no doubt be taken in regard to the convention to be held at Cumberland on the 10th of next month, to consider and discuss the practicability of extending the Chesapeake and Ohio canal to the Ohio river via Wills creek and the Youghiogheny river. The President of the canal company, Mr. A. P. Gorman, has sent the following communication to the Youghiogheny Navigation Company.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., August 8, 1873.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Chesapeake and Ohio canal, held this day, the suggestions (as above stated) were laid before the Board, and met with the approval of every member present, and the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That according to the suggestions (as above stated) a meeting of the friends of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal from Cumberland to some point on the Ohio river be held in the city of Cumberland, on the 10th day of September, 1873, in the Queen City Hotel, at 12 o'clock M.

And be it further Resolved, That the President address a circular letter to all persons and corporations who can, in his opinion, in any way promote said extension.

Resolved further, That the President shall, before the day of said meeting, collect such facts to lay before said meeting as will tend to show the importance of said proposed extension, and a comparative statement of the cost of the proposed enlargement as compared with other similar proposed works and the relative trade likely to accrue from each, and the importance of each in a material point of view.

Very respectfully, A. P. GORMAN.

AMUSEMENTS.

AMERICAN THEATRE.—This popular vaudeville resort reopens this evening, under the management of the ever popular and genial Mr. Fred Aims. During the time that the house has been unoccupied, it has been thoroughly repaired, redecorated and retouched throughout. The scenery and stage appurtenances are all new and improved, and Mr. Aims intends to run nothing but a first class variety theatre.

The company he has engaged for the opening will bear testimony to this. It includes Miss Nully Pieris, Miss Clara Butler, Warren Sisters, Miss Minnie Gray, Miss Frankie Christie, Gilfol and Rouke, Frank Jones, E. D. Gooding, Frank H. Nelson, Harry and Lottie McCarthy, Brothers Guirados, George Knight, L. Frank Frarne, James Douglas, Ben Hayes, Goodyear and Whirting. Surely such an array of talent ought to be able to furnish efficient amusement for the crowd who will throng the house tonight. The programme selected is a novel one, and includes many features entirely new to the Pittsburgh public. Mr. Aims will no doubt be greeted with an audience this evening that will fully test the capacity of the house. There is no doubt but that the same liberal management which was shown last season will be this, and that the management will fully deserve liberal patronage of the public.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—This beautiful temple of the muses will re-open on the 23d inst., with the Wallace Sisters, for a short season, and after that another Combination appears. After this engagement the regular season opens with an engagement of the great tragedian Lawrence Barrett in "Julius Cæsar." During the interval of its vacation, the house has been thoroughly renovated and the chairs upholstered. The walls have been beautifully frescoed in blue and gold. The entrance has been beautifully re-decorated and an elegant gasalier added to its other adornments. As at present arranged the Opera House is one of the handsomest places of amusements in the United States. The management intend to furnish all the first class attractions during the coming season.

Let Us Reason Together.

The insurance of a man's property is not a matter that may be justifiably delayed or neglected. It is a duty which he owes to himself, to his family and community, and in neglecting to discharge this duty he becomes actually and not constructively criminal. When for the pittance of a few dollars, an amount of thousands may be secured in case of loss, there remains no excuse or available pretext for not insuring. And here we would advise that a safe, sound and reliable home institution be selected as the one in which to place our risks. In such institutions we have a better guarantee for the adjustment of all matters connected with loss than in one abroad. And here we wish to say to our readers, that the Teutonia, No. 206 East Ohio street, Allegheny, is a tip-top institution in every respect, and you cannot go wrong in choosing it for an investment.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Personal and Otherwise.

REV. D. T. CARNAHAN, of the Bellefield church, in this city, has accepted a call to the Second church of Oil City.

REV. J. W. WITHERSPOON, of the Fifth U. P. Church, Allegheny, has returned, after an absence of several weeks.

BEAVER VALLEY (U. P.) Presbytery will meet in Bethel Church on the 19th, to be opened with a sermon by Dr. McLean.

REV. E. W. RICE, of Philadelphia, has been elected State Secretary of the Pennsylvania State Sunday School Society.

THE Eighth street R. P. church has lately been frescoed and otherwise improved. It now presents a neat and tasteful appearance.

REV. J. G. GOETTMAN, of Allegheny City, will preach in the Lutheran Church, Bedford, to-morrow, Sabbath, at 10½ o'clock A. M.

THE young people of Grace Memorial Presbyterian church, in this city, have given two successful concerts for the benefit of their pastor.

SERVICES will be resumed in the Central and First U. P. Churchs, Allegheny, to-morrow a week. The latter church is being thoroughly renovated.

EFFORTS are being made to establish the United Brethren Church in this city. A class has been formed and regular preaching established. Rev. D. Speck is the pastor.

REV. DR. G. W. MUDDER has received and accepted a call from the St. James (German Reformed) church of this city, vice Rev. I. C. Mudder, who goes to Wheeling.

REV. W. J. REED, of the First U. P. church, is taking his usual trip to the old homestead—Washington county, N. Y. The church will be closed till the first Sabbath of September.

REV. T. A. SPROULL, of New Alexandria, Pa., will occupy the pulpit of the Central R. P. church, Allegheny, on to-morrow. Services to commence at the usual time, 10½ A. M. and 3 P. M.

REV. SAMUEL LAIRD, of this city, will preach in the Lutheran Church at Adamsburg to-morrow, Sabbath, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., and in the English Lutheran Church of Greensburg at 2:30 o'clock P. M.

THE Rev. Mr. Peterson (Norwegian), late a Roman Catholic priest in Minnesota, has conformed to the Episcopal Church, and applied to be received into the ministry, with a view to its exercise among his fellow countrymen.

REV. DR. JOSEPH MCELROY, who was ordained and installed over the First Associate Reformed Church, Pittsburgh, Pa., and in a few years was called to New York, has been pastor of the Scotch Church in that city for fifty-two years.

THE Westminster Presbyterian church of this city is making encouraging progress. At the late communion fifteen were received, five on profession of faith, two of whom were baptized. The young pastor, Rev. W. N. Sloan, has a fine field before him.

THERE are are seventy-seven Episcopal churches in Philadelphia, containing about 18,000 communicants. There were nearly 3,000 baptisms in the churches during the past year, and about 21,000 children attend the Sunday schools connected therewith.

THE Congregationalist says: The late venerable and beloved Rev. Matthew Brown, D. D., was in the habit of saying that religious interests and activity could only be expected in Pittsburgh when the water was out of the Pennsylvania canal and the Ohio river frozen over.

THE M. E. church at Bedford, Pa., was re-opened Sunday two weeks with special services. A collection of $2,200 was secured towards the improvements. United States Senators Cameron and Salisbury, Gov. Hartranft and other distinguished civilians were present and contributed.

OCEAN GROVE camp meeting is now in progress. By a private note we learn that the following Pittsburghers are enjoying themselves in that Sea side Paradise. Rev. S. M. Vernon, W. Vankirk and family, D. McCargo and family, Mrs. Morrison and daughter, Miss Mary Pusey, Belle Bradley, and Murray Verner.

THE Oakland M. E. Sunday School, which had selected Thursday for its annual pic-nic, was compelled to defer it, owing to the rain. The pic-nic will be held to-day, on the lawn in front of the residence of W. C. Moreland, Esq. Ample arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the friends of the School, who may be present.

THE Rev. Constantine Standler, late a priest in the Roman Catholic Diocese of Columbus, O., was on Sunday week received into the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in St. George's Church, Flushing, Rhode Island. Bishop Littlejohn being absent, Bishop Bedell officiated and preached the sermon. The newly received priest afterwards assisted in the Holy Communion.

IN the thriving city of Altoona, Pa., the Methodist Episcopal church has three charges, and under their lead Methodism is more than keeping pace with the growth of the population and wealth of the city. Two years ago the First charge, under its present pastor, Rev. F. R. Riddle, at an outlay of $10,000, remodelled, enlarged and otherwise improved their church edifice, and provided for the indebtedness on the day of reopening.

THE compiler of the Church Directory for Allegheny appears to have gotten the "central" churches a little mixed. The "Central R. P." is called the "Second Central," and is located where the "Central U. P." is, which, in turn, is entirely ignored. There are three "central" churches in Allegheny. The oldest, the Central Presbyterian, Rev. W. H. Gill, pastor, is located on the corner of Lacock and Anderson streets. The next oldest, the Central Reformed Presbyterian, Rev. J. W. Sproull, pastor, is located on the east side of Sandusky street, south of Ohio street, while the last organized, the Central United Presbyterian, Rev. J. M. Johnson, pastor, is located on the corner of Sandusky and South Diamond streets.

THE RECENT RISE.

Black Diamonds Afloat—River Men Happy—A Heavy Run.

During the last two days there has been great activity among the river men, especially those engaged in the coal trade. The Monongahela was full of coal barges and tow boats, until yesterday afternoon, when the following tows got safely over "the ripple," and started on their southern and southwestern trip. There are some others that will be ready to go off at an early hour this morning, if the rise only holds out long enough:

A Few Reasons Why

You should buy the American Buttonhole, Overseaming and Family Sewing Machine in preference to any other. It will do everything that any machine can do—sewing from the coarsest to the finest material, hemming, felling, cording, braiding, binding, gathering and sewing on, at the same time ruffling, quilting, &c., better than any other machine. The tensions are easily adjusted; it works a beautiful buttonhole, embroiders over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border; will work an eyelet-hole, and will do overhand seaming. The feed is easily adjusted to the weight of the cloth; the thread is drawn from the center of the bobbin; the tension is even and the thread does not break; it has no springs to break; nothing to get out of order; it is two machines in one, a buttonhole working and sewing machine. Parties using a family sewing machine, want a complete machine, one with all the improvements, which can be had by calling on John Espy, No. 178 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Two Ways to Become Rich.

First. By embarking in business on borrowed capital; purchasing as much as possible on credit; selling out the same for cash; pocketing the proceeds, and then—and then, well, the fates were against me and I had to go under. Second. By making a resolute determination to invest a certain portion of your income or proceeds regularly in some savings institution, by which method you must gradually, but certainly, become wealthy in a few years at most. Of the two methods, the latter is preferable by far. Its certainty and honesty make it the really commendable plan. Try investing one dollar per day at simple or compound interest, and how very soon you will be surprised with an amount of Five Thousand Dollars. Begin now, and make your deposits in the Smithfield Savings Bank, Smithfield street, one door from Diamond street.

Something Good.

Ladies and gentlemen, you will be charmingly entertained this evening at the Allegheny Park, with music's entrancing voice, and then we ask you to remember that there is provided you a feast of good things, substantial delicacies, at No. 287 Western avenue, where William A. Rhodes presides over the neatest, cleanest, and daintiest ice cream parlor in the city. He invites, cordially invites, nearly all who visit the Park this evening to visit his establishment and regale on the palatable and toothsome confections he has provided.

Fine Furniture.

Among the many furniture establishments of the two cities, none are possessed of better facilities for supplying a really excellent article of furniture than Messrs. J. N. Dryden & Co., 182 Federal street, Allegheny. The unusual variety and the excellent quality of furniture manufactured at this establishment, places it in the front rank of furniture houses. All their goods, common, plain and super-excellent are furnished at prices which defy competition. They cannot be undersold in price, nor surpassed in quality.

And Again.

Reader, let us call your attention to the fact that Messrs. Crawford & Co., of 76 Fifth avenue, have just received a very large as well as varied assortment of coral, cameo and amethyst breastpins and earrings of every imaginable design and style. Also an assortment of watch charms, composing emblematical representations of in fact everything. An early visit cannot but be beneficial.

New and attractive ornaments in the line of Lava Bronze Figures, Parian Marble Vases, Toilet Setts, &c., have just been received at Evans' Department Store, 59 Fifth avenue.

....As Councils of Allegheny have refused to enlarge the police force, the citizens of Irwin, Western, Allegheny and Grant avenues, propose to hire a private patrolman to aid the policeman who now does duty on the beat from Federal street to Bidwell and Western avenue to North avenue, nearly a half a mile. They think their property is not sufficiently protected by one man.

....A young man who gave his name as Mike Haney, was arrested Thursday night on a charge of drunkenness. On his person was found a bank book bearing the name and address of James Neil, Pleasantville, Pa. Besides this he had three checks on the Franklin bank, signed E. G. Thompson, two of them calling for $100 each, and the other for $103. At the morning hearing he said his name was McChesney, that he was from Franklin. The Mayor held him until he should telegraph to Franklin. If nothing is heard this morning he will be discharged.

......U. S. Detective Pender yesterday arrested Paden Robinson at Canonsburg on a charge of retailing liquor without the payment of special tax. He was brought to this city and committed to jail by Commissioner Gamble. Robinson is a colored man and showed fight, striking the officer twice in the jaw while the attempt was being made to take him into custody, and Pender was compelled to raise a couple of knots on his knowledge box with a mace before he would submit. After the "darbies" were put on him, he became as gentle as "a sucking dove."

....A meeting of the Board of Health was held yesterday afternoon, but no business of special importance was transacted. A number of bills for disinfectants purchased and bedding &c., destroyed, in order to impede the progress of the cholera, were presented, and warrants ordered to be drawn for their payment. City Clerk Morrow made a statement to the effect that the ordinance recommended by the Board of Health for a sewer to be constructed on Jackson street, in the Twenty first ward, to remedy the nuisance caused by the run into which the filth from the stock yards empties, had passed Select Council, and was now awaiting the action of Common.

....Mr. H. B. Whittington, correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, who was here in attendance on the State Teachers Association has the following to say in regard to the schools of this city: "The improvement in the schools in this city has been marked and rapid during the last seven years—and in the style, cost and furnishing of school houses, your correspondent must candidly confess they are ahead of Philadelphia; if any one doubts it let him visit the Fourth ward school in Allegheny. The building and furnishing cost one hundred thousand dollars, and for architectural beauty and adaptability to school purposes there is nothing to equal it in Philadelphia. And this is only one of several that I have visited."

A Flourishing Establishment.

A good illustration of the progress of home manufactures is presented in the gradually increasing demands upon one of our most skillful and enterprising carriage establishments, viz: that of C. West & Co., Nos. 75, 77 and 79 Liberty street. This house has fairly earned the large business it has built up, as it has been specially careful that no half finished or bungling work should ever leave their factory. They use the very best material, employ none but the most skilled and experienced workmen, so that for service and durability, as well as style and finish, their carriages, buggies, barouches, phaetons, wagons and vehicles of every description, are not to be surpassed at home or abroad. Call and purchase a fine carriage at a reasonable figure.

One!—What!

Those of our readers about replenishing their wardrobes should not fail to call at the Boston One Price Clothing Store and examine the stock of ready-made clothing offered by this live and energetic establishment. The proprietors of this house fully understand the clothing business in every particular, having been born, bred and brought up to it in a land where nothing is done by halves. This house is the "Hub" of clothing institutions, because all others are compelled to revolve around it in price and quality. If you want ready-made clothing, you will find here an assortment, which is amply extensive, and which embraces all styles and varieties. Their goods are good and are fashionable, and you can save money by buying at 95 Smithfield street.

How it can be Done.

How could I be a happy wife?
How could I 'scape the toils and strife
That chase us down the hill of life,
Without my Weed Machine?

Better than a Piano or Organ is the Weed Machine for increasing domestic bliss. It performs its work, so accurately, so neatly and so well; that operating it becomes a real pleasure. No difference whether the material to be sewed is cambric or leather, the heaviest can be sewed as readily as the lightest. F. C. Biggert, 116 Market St. is ever courteously willing to exhibit its virtues.

A Rare Chance to Make a Fortune.

In our "Want" column will be found an advertisement for a suitable person to furnish capital to secure patents in Canada and Europe, for an invention which is now on exhibition in this city, and which for real utility has no equal. We have examined the article and have no hesitancy in saying that it is more efficient in the protection of life and property than anything which has come before the public for years. Its usefulness can not be estimated, and it must prove a success, and its sale will undoubtedly secure a fortune to him who has the capital to invest.

FOUL MURDER OR SUICIDE.

Man Found with Throat Cut at Beaver Falls—Theories of the Cause—Another Man Found in the River.

The usually quiet and exemplary town of Beaver Falls, was thrown into a fever of excitement on Wednesday by the announcements that a murdered man had been found floating in a mill race, near the Cutlery Works. He was taken out, when it was discovered that his throat had been cut by some sharp instrument, and other marks about his head and face led to the belief that he had been foully dealt with. A theory of suicide was advanced, but owing to there being no weapons found, this theory gained but little prevalence. The accidental death plan was still more untenable, and the people were unwillingly forced to accept the wilful cold blooded murder theory.

The man's name was learned to be Benjamin F. Bearss, and that he had pawned a watch and chain at the broker shop of M. Streng, No. 7 Sixth street, this city, for which he received twenty-four dollars. Mr. Streng was sent for and testified before the Coroner's jury that this was the same man who had been in his office on Monday last, and that he had been there before and pawned the same watch and chain, and had always redeemed the same. He knew nothing further about the man, where he lived, what his profession or business was.

Mr. Crane testified that Mr. Bearss, in company with two other parties, came into the cutlery works and asked permission to "look around," which was granted them. Mr. B. was somewhat intoxicated, but not drunk. His companions had been drinking, but were not so much under its influence as he was. While he was looking about the building they went into the yard and held a conversation in low tones, about very important matters, judging from their manner.

A little boy testified that he saw these three men playing cards under a willow tree on the bank of the mill race, while another boy says they were playing for money, and that Bearss was winning it all. There was no money found on his person at all, which leads to the belief that he had beat his partners in the game, and in a fit of fiendish desperation they had killed him and threw his body into the mill race. Dr. McPherson testified that the wounds had been inflicted with a dull cutting instrument, a knife probably, which had penetrated the wind-pipe, causing death after being thrown into the water.

Coroner Corbus summoned a jury and investigated the affair as thoroughly as possible, the following verdict was rendered:

"That the deceased, supposed to be Benjamin F. Bearss, came to his death at Beaver Falls on the twelfth day of August, 1873, by violence received at the hands of some party or parties at present unknown to the jury."

Yesterday the account of another mysterious affair came from near the same place. About a mile and a half below Economy the tow boat Venture picked up the body of a man floating in the river and carried it up to the town, where Coroner Corbus held an inquest. The man's neck was broken and a large handkerchief stuffed in his mouth. He had the appearance of being a roustabout or mill hand. The Coroner's jury rendered a verdict of "found drowned."

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

MICHAEL MURPHY charges Mary, of the same name, with adultery, before Deputy Mayor Nichols. She is jailed for a hearing.

BENEDICT STAUFFER, by his wife Elizabeth, before Alderman D. L. Smith, of Allegheny, is charged with cruelty and desertion. Warrant issued.

JAMES HUGAN informs Alderman Thomas that Mr. Phillips keeps a ferocious dog, and that that same animal made a meal out of a portion of his leg.

DAVID ROBINSON, James J. Donovan, Thomas Patterson, Neely Burns, Thomas Murphy and Henderson each had a hearing yesterday on the charge of shooting Officer Doyle in East Liberty last month. Robinson, Henderson and Murphy were discharged, and the others were held in bail of $1,000 each for Court.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH,
MUNICIPAL HALL,
PITTSBURGH, August 6, 1873.

Proprietors Pittsburgh Tar Chemical Works:

GENTLEMEN—Your note of July 30th, asking for an opinion as to the merits of your "Carbolate Powder," as a disinfectant, has been received. I am directed to inform you, in reply, that having tested your "Carbolate Powder," the Board of Health can cordially recommend it to the public as a cheap and effective deodorant and disinfectant. Very truly yours,

CROSBY GRAY, Health Officer.

It is hardly necessary to add anything to the above. The fact that the Board of Health recommends for general use the Carbolate Powder will convince all of our readers that it is in every respect fully what it is claimed to be. It should be in every house, and freely and plentifully sprinkled wherever a disagreeable odor can be detected. In view of the probability of the approach of cholera every precaution should be taken to ward it off, and nothing can be more effective for that purpose than the Carbolate Powder recommended above.

It is Time to Decide.

Only two weeks more and our Public Schools and some private Institutions will resume their accustomed work. Many anxious persons will be desirous of finding the most suitable place where their sons and daughters may spend time and effort to the best advantage. A decision here is fraught with the greatest importance, as time lost can never be regained. To those who are seeking to educate their children wisely and well, we commend the North Side Institute on the East corner of Federal Street and North Avenue. It is excellent for situation and in all its appointments. The principal, T. E. Wakeham is to well known to need commendation. The course of study is comprehensive and arranged to suit the requirements of each department. Circulars are to be had at any of the book stores in both cities. The Principal may be seen every morning from 9 o'clock at the School Rooms.

Allegheny Can Boast

Of a tip top carriage establishment at Nos. 52 and 53 West Diamond. We do not make this assertion at random, for having been through the manufactory, and having spent some time in a careful examination of the manner in which the work is carried on in this establishment, and of the material used, we are compelled to say that the work is skillfully and carefully done: that the best seasoned timber, the best kind of iron and the best trimmings which is possible to be had are employed in the manufacture of their vehicles. Work of this nature may be easily put together so as to deceive the very expert, but Messrs. Caughey, McCallin & Co., cover no defects with heavy coats of paint. Their work is honest. A Real Chance for Speculation.

Previous to the first great sale at Homestead in 1871 the Homestead Bank contracted for the purchase of the adjoining property known as the "West" farm. The Bank is now about to come into possession and will offer it for sale in blocks of one to five acres. As it was purchased before the railroad was opened and before Homestead was laid out, the price paid was but a fraction of its present value, consequently the Bank can afford to, and we are informed will, sell single acres for the same or even less than will now purchase adjoining farms. The market is not overstocked with such property, and we advise those who want to invest where prices must go up, to get a few acres of the West farm.

Business Not Dull.

Whatever others may say as to dullness, Messrs. George Crawford & Co. seem to have lively times in their establishment, at No. 76 Fifth avenue. The change of firm has doubled the business of the house, the friends of the old and new both uniting their patronage on Crawford & Co. We are glad to know that this model establishment is doing a business these dull times almost, if not equal to a holiday season. Their success in the sale of jewelry, which is unsurpassed, is owing to the fact that they have constantly on hand the greatest variety of the very best quality of goods. Their stock of gold and silver watches, chains, rings, pins and every possible article in the jewelry line cannot be beaten. Try No. 76 Fifth avenue.

Regardless of Cost.

The Boston One Price have determined to close out their stock on hand, for the purpose of gaining space for a fresh supply, and clothing is now selling so cheap at this house that it seems kind of ruinous, bad as it may be for the proprietors, but while they are losing money those who purchase here are making money. Now is your time for bargains. The stock can not last many days at the rate at which it is now being bought up. Were the goods of an inferior quality there could be no wonder at their low prices, but when goods so excellent in quality, style and finish, the wonder is how they live.

An Article of Utility.

Examine the practical working of the Anderson Sash Balance, the best, most convenient and economical sash ballance ever invented. It can be readily applied to the window of any building, whether of one constructed or in process of construction. Every house, hotel, hall and private residence should be provided with them. It is worth many times its cost, not only as regards comfort and convenience, but also in a sanitary point of view, because it secures a pleasant, healthful and perfect ventilation. It dispenses with the old-fashioned cord, weight and pulley, none being required in the Anderson Balance. Call at No. 70 Smithfield street and examine this useful invention, and you will not be long in availing yourself of its benefits.

DANGEROUSLY SHOT.

The Accidental Discharge of a Pistol—A Woman Seriously Injured in Allegheny—Arrest of the Perpetrator.

Last evening, about half past eight o'clock, a peculiar shooting affair occurred on Ohio street, near Chestnut, in Allegheny. At that time a young man named Solomon Fell, who keeps a saloon at No. 282 Ohio street, known as the "Butler Exchange," was in the street in front of his saloon with another young man named H. Heck. It appears that he had borrowed a little revolver from a boarder in the house. He was showing this weapon to his companion, and, as he stated, had it partly out of his pocket, when the young man knocked against it and the pistol dropped on the pavement, exploding one of the cartridges. A woman named Mrs. Wilhelmina Yerx, wife of Fritz Yerx, a resident of Howard street, and a carpenter by trade, was passing at the time, and she was wounded by the discharge of the weapon. She stood a moment on the walk, when she fell and Fell picked her up and carried her into the saloon. Dr. Andrew Easton was hastily summoned, and as his office is on Chestnut street, close by, was quickly on the spot. The woman was carried into another room where the physician made an examination. The ball had entered her abdomen a half an inch below the umbilicus, and from there had taken a diagonal direction to the left and penetrated the flesh about three inches, narrowly passing the abdominal cavity. In probing the wound the bullet, a No. 1 minnie, same as used in a Smith & Wesson pistol, was easily discovered.

Shortly after the shooting occurred Lieut. Long, who was near the scene of the accident entered, and Fell gave himself up. He was conveyed to the lock-up and placed in a cell to await the result. About ten o'clock the report came to the Mayor's office, that the woman had been dangerously shot. Mayor Callow repaired to the scene, and took her deposition, which is as follows, and somewhat different from the statement made by Fell: She said she was passing along Ohio street about half-past 8 o'clock, and when near the spot mentioned, she noticed three boys or men, she don't know which, standing on the sidewalk, handling a pistol; she understood they had something on the other side of the street as a mark, which they intended to shoot at; she heard the pistol go off and found immediately after that she was shot; she does not think that the shooting was done intentionally, as they could have meant her no harm. She stated that she was thirty-three years of age and resided on Howard street, whither she was taken later in the evening in a carriage. The woman is very large and corpulent, and in a peculiar condition. Dr. Easton states that the wound may not prove fatal, but that peritonitis is liable to set in owing to her condition. He, however, cannot tell exactly at present how her injuries will result, but thinks there is no immediate danger.

Kind, Kinder Blair.

And you will be very unkind to yourself, your family and friends if you leave your place of business to-day without first going to No. 62 Fifth avenue and loading yourself down with the delicacies which are to be procured here. Everything in the line is so clean, so fresh-looking, so pure and so rich that patronage once bestowed on this house is sure to come again. And such a variety. Why it seems as if everything grown or manufactured, from the poles to the equator, can be found in plenty. To particularize would beggar space. So we only say, visit for yourselves and see the candies, cakes, creams, fruits, nuts, &c., and be convinced that no better can be found.

Look Here!

Messrs. Meyer & Son, Nos. 412 and 414 Penn street, (east of railroad crossing) are offering their large and choice stock of furniture at prices which are very reasonable, in order that they make space for a fresh supply. An Act of Cruelty.

Chapped hands and face are the most serious annoyances that farmers, and people who labor much out of doors, experience from exposure. Exposed persons, especially children, repeatedly suffer intensely from great cracks upon the hands, that often bleed. It is cruel to allow one's self or others to suffer in this way, when the means of positive prevention are so easy to be had, and so cheaply, as to pay ten cents for a cake of Hand Sapolio. Hand Sapolio is not only better than the costliest soap for removing dirt, but it prevents chapping, and renders the skin soft and pliable. Sold everywhere.

MILLERSTOWN, Butler county, Pennsylvania, is not the name of a postoffice. The postoffice at or near that place is Barnhart's Mills. There is a postoffice in Perry county, Pennsylvania, called Millerstown, and to that office a large number of letters have been sent which was intended for the new oil center of that name in Butler county.

THE Standard Oil Company of Cleveland recently purchased twenty acres of ground at Raymilton, on the line of J. & F. Railroad, and will immediately commence erecting five tanks, of 20,000 each. From Raymilton a pipe line will be laid to the Butler oil field. The pipe is to be twenty-five miles in length, and capable of carrying between 3,000 and 4,000 barrels of oil per day, and is expected to be completed in about sixty days.

IT is said that a combination in the oil regions is buying up all the wells, prospective, or being dug; and also all the developed oil territory. According to the Venango Citizen this story is plausible, as, according to the low price of oil, many owners would be glad to sell at any price. It is thought that this combination could control the crude as well as the refined oil market, as their tanking capacity and railroad facilities would be unlimited.

ON Wednesday, a man in Wilkesbarre suffering badly from the delirium "jim jams," ordered a coffin and a hearse to be sent to a family in that city. The hearse and coffin were sent in good time, to the surprise of the family, who didn't know what to make of it, and they could not furnish a corpse. Matters were explained and shortly after the man was found wrestling with imaginary snakes. It is needless to say he was also "snaked" for safety.

AT the railroad meeting recently held at Brownsville much interest seemed to be manifested in the success of the enterprise. Books of subscription to the capital were opened, and about $50,000 subscribed on the spot. We understand the Redstone Coal Company propose taking stock to the amount of $50,000 also. This will leave only one-third of the stock yet to be secured, and places the construction of the road, at an early day, beyond a doubt. Already the final survey is being selected.

The Mennonites.

The colony of 30,000 Mennonites, or Russian Baptists with Quaker customs, which is to settle in Kansas, will not be by any means the first representatives of these people which have emigrated to this country. As far back as 1683 and 1708 communities of Mennonites were established in various parts of Pennsylvania—notably in Philadelphia and Germantown. They have since widely spread, and are now to be found in New York, Ohio, Maryland, and Canada, numbering altogether, perhaps, 150,000 souls. The origin of the sect dates back to the beginning of the seventeenth century, when a certain Menno Simants, from whose first name it derives its appellation, founded it in Holland. Successive colonizations and emigrations elsewhere established the Mennonites in the course of time in almost every country in Europe. They are an orderly and industrious people, and although possessed of some peculiar beliefs and convictions, make excellent citizens. Among their opinions it may be mentioned that they are opposed, like the Quakers, to oaths and to war, and also to capital punishment, and discourage, as also do the Quakers, the marriage of their members to persons who are not Mennonites.

English Telegraphs.

The telegraphs in England are under the control of the Postoffice Department, and the Postmaster General, in his recent report, devotes considerable space to them. The total number of telegraph offices in the kingdom is 5,400, an increase of 306 during the year 1872. There were sent during that year, nearly fifteen millions of ordinary messages, an increase of nearly three millions over the previous year. A still greater increase appeared in the number of words transmitted for the newspapers, over twenty-eight millions of words having been sent for press messages, an increase of seven millions of words. It is stated that during a single night, when important ministerial statements have been made in Parliament, over two hundred thousand words have been transmitted from the central telegraphic station in London, for publication in the provincial newspapers. On New Year day last, there were 105,000 miles of postal telegraphs in operation, of which about five thousand miles were rented by private persons. These private wires yielded the Government an annual rental of $190,000. There are over 7,500 instruments in use in the English telegraphic system.

PUTTING DOWN REBELLION.

When the stomach rebels against food and obstinately refuses to digest sufficient aliment to keep the body well nourished, it can only be compelled to resume its natural duties by a wholesome tonic. The powerful alkaloids so often administered for this purpose are not wholesome. They are, for the most part, deadly poisons, and even when taken in very small quantities, react violently upon the nervous system. Not so Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This salutary combination of vegetable juices, embracing the finest invigorants and alteratives which the botanical kingdom affords, operates mildly, steadily and beneficially upon the digestive organs. In dyspepsia, bilious affections, nervous complaints, periodic fevers, chronic constipation, bodily weakness, mental depression, langour, sleeplessness, and the various disabilities incident to old age and premature decay, its effects are so wonderful that to be comprehended they must be witnessed or experienced.
